Cuarteron: 1857-1879

Borneo was properly recognised as a mission when the Congregation of the Propagation of the Faith (Propaganda Fide) set up the Prefecture Apostolic of Labuan and Borneo on 4 September 1855. The first Prefect Apostolic was Msgr Don Carlos Cuarteron, a member of the Third Order of the Trinitarians. Born on 19 March 1816 in Cardiz, Spain, he was a sea captain before being ordained a priest on 9 Apr 1854. His vision of mission was to announce the Gospel in Borneo and in the neighbouring islands, to build groups of redeemed slaves into self-supporting Christian communities and to make mission work and commerce go hand in hand. He tried to do this with the help of the Milan Foreign Missionaries (PIME). The mission did not bear much fruit as Cuarteron tried to cast his net too wide and too quickly. However, he did manage to redeem around 50 individuals from slavery. In December 1879 he returned to Rome and resigned as Prefect Apostolic. He went home to Cardiz and died there on 12 March 1880.

The Vicar Apostolic of the Roman Catholic Church is built at Seria (as part of the Seria/Kuala Belait Mission's plan for erecting a new Seria English School, a convent school, a church and a rectory) it will be known as the Church of Our Lady.

November 1954 - Kuala Belait R.C Church officially named St. John's and the yet to be built Seria R.C Church named, Church of Our Lady.

TENDERS SOUGHT FOR NEW SERIA SCHOOL

Tenders have been called for the erection of what will be Brunei State's largest English school — St. Michael's, on a four-acre site near Seria bazaar.

The school is to be built by the Roman Catholic Mission, and will replace Seria English School, the 1,000-pupil undertaking run at present in temporary buildings loaned by The British Malayan Petroleum Company Limited near Seria oil-field headquarters.

The new school will be a two-storied building with a frontage of about 230 feet. There will be two "wings", and in all there are to be 16 classrooms.

The Mission authorities plan to build a separate school for girls in due course, to be staffed by Catholic Sisters from Kuching. But for some time after the opening of the new St. Michael's School, it will be run on co-educational lines, as in the case of the present Seria English School.

Grants towards the cost of building the new school have been promised by the Brunei Government and The B.M.P. Company. In addition, the Catholic congregation in the Seria/Belait area has raised a large sum by a voluntary "levy" on their pay — one month's salary, spread over St. Joseph's School, Miri, under Fathers Dekker and Boon, is expected to be opened by the Vicar Apostolic of Borneo, Monseigneur Vos, within the next few weeks. The new school will cater for about 500 pupils.

twenty months.

St. Michael's School will be situated in the south-east corner of Jalan Satu Selatan and Lorong Satu, near Seria bazaar. The Mission authorities plan to build a vicarage, a church, and a convent, when sufficient funds become available.

The foundation of the school will be laid in concrete, and the upper structure will be timber. In the design consider-

SERIA. — The Catholic Mission here has launched a general public appeal for funds towards the cost of building the new 1,000-pupil Seria English School planned for a site near Seria bazaar.

"An enormous amount of money, of the order of quarter of a million dollars, will be necessary to build a school large enough to accommodate our thousand students in the manner and in the comfort necessary to modern standards of education," says the appeal.

The Catholic community have already contributed $40,000, but as two-thirds of the students at present attending school are non-

Catholics, it is obvious that the non-Catholic section of the community should be asked as well.

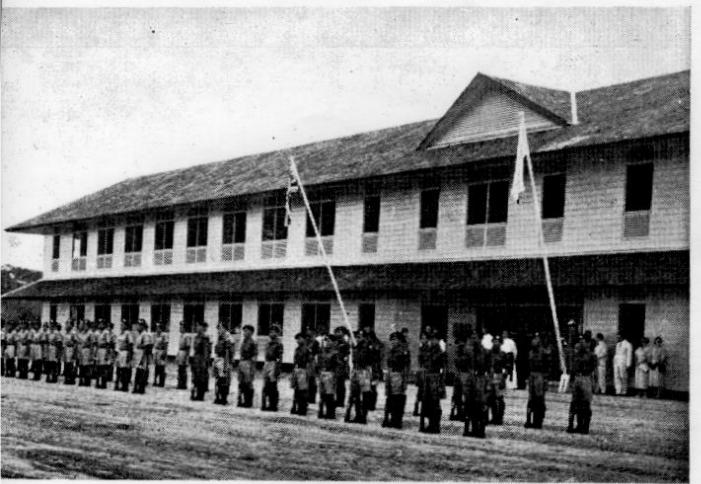

"The problem may be stated quite simply: If you want a school for your children, you must help us to build one."

The appeal goes on to say that $50,000 is needed to enable work to be started on the new school, for which a site has been secured, plans drawn and passed, and building contractors' tenders obtained.

$60,000 BMP GRANT

A suggestion is made that contributors should consider making donations over a period, authorising small monthly deductions from the pay of the head of the family.

The Bulletin understands that a grant of $60,000 has been made towards the school project by The British Malayan Petroleum

With effect from 06th December, 1997, the Holy See appointed a new Apostolic Prefecture in Brunei Darussalam, with Rt. Rev. Monsignor Cornelius Sim as the first Apostolic Prefect.

Brunei Darussalam — a new Apostolic Prefecture

By Joseph J Masilamany

KUCHING: The Holy See has appointed a new Apostolic Prefecture in Brunei Darussalam with Rt Rev Monsignor Cornelius Sim (pic), as the first Apostolic Prefect.

The Archbishop of Kuching, Datuk Peter Chung was informed of the appointment which takes effect on 6th December 1997 by the Apostolic Nunciature in Bangkok.

Datuk Peter Chung who is also the President of the Bishop's Conference of Malaysia, Singapore and Brunei expressed his heartiest congratulations to the Catholics of Brunei on the constitution of the Apostolic Prefecture of Brunei Darussalam.

Datuk Peter Chung said, "Your appointment is without doubt an added responsibility on your shoulders. It also means that the Holy See has great confidence in you and recognises your personal ability and apostolic zeal in leading and serving the new Prefecture in action. With all your people and all those who love you,

I pray that you will have the Holy Spirit to strengthen, guide and protect you in your new responsibility and assure you of my readiness to assist you in your task to set your new Prefecture in action."

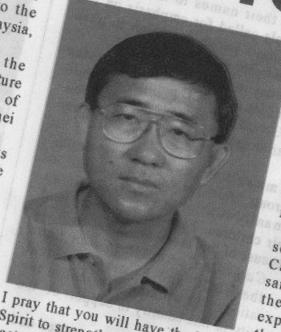

The Church of Brunei Darussalam commenced through the missionary zeal of the Labuan-based Mill Hill Missions Society in the early part of this century. The Church registered its first baptism in 1917 in Brunei Town (now called Bandar Seri Begawan). Its first mission outpost was established in 1927 at Kuala Belait and Fr A Stotter was installed as the first resident priest in 1932.

Today there are three parishes serving three thousand local Catholics and twenty-seven thousand transient workers, most of them being Filipinos and other expatriate workers. In addition there is one Catholic Mission Centre and 4 schools. Two priests are currently serving the Church of Brunei Darussalam assisted by 4 full-time catechists. One woman religious is in formation and two young men are training for the priesthood in Singapore and the United States. In 1985 Fr Ivan Fang MHM was ordained the first local priest.

Monsignor Cornelius Sim was born in 1951 and ordained priest in 1989. He obtained his Masters in Theology from the Franciscan University of Steubenville in Ohio.

According to Canon Law 371 § 1: an Apostolic Prefecture is a certain portion of the people of God, which for special reasons is not yet constituted to the personal care of a Vicar apostolic or a Prefect apostolic, who governs in the name of the Supreme Pontiff. The title of Prefect apostolic or Vicar apostolic is conferred upon priests who by assignment and under the direct authority of the Holy See, whether they have episcopal consecration or not, govern a missionary district where the hierarchy has not been established.
