THE EPIPHANY OF THE LORD

FIRST READING

Isaiah 60: 1-6

The prophet tells the people to rejoice and celebrate in spite of the difficulties they face, for the Lord our God is among them. The individual described here is Jesus, and the passage tells of all the nations paying tribute to him. All glory is his and honour given to him. And because of him the earth shall rejoice and sing their praises to God. The prophet looks forward to this day, when all the nations will join together in their singing.

SECOND READING

Ephesians 3: 2-3, 5-6

St. Paul reminds us of the revelation we have received through Jesus Christ, of how the Holy Spirit moves in the hearts of all men and women and that we are all part of the one body, sharing the same inheritance, in Christ Jesus.

GOSPEL

Matthew 2: 1-12

The story of the wise men is not without its dark side. Herod wanted the death of the Infant King of the Jews. The chief priests and scribes conspired with Herod to bring this about. At the end of Matthew's gospel these same people will conspire and will succeed in having Jesus put to death. The wisemen were sent by Herod to find out where the child Jesus was. Herod intended to have Jesus killed after knowing where he was. The wisemen set out looking for Jesus and were guided by the star to Bethlehem. They found Jesus and paid their homage, but did not return to Herod as they were supposed to.
